

Subhashini A. Gowda, M.D.

Electrophysiologist

Dr. Subhashini A. Gowda, M.D., joins NBCG as an Electrophysiologist. Dr. Gowda completed her Internal Medicine residency at Wayne State University Hospital in Detroit, MI and her Cardiology fellowship at Temple University Hospital in Philadelphia, PA. Subsequently, Dr. Gowda joined St. Luke's Roosevelt Hospital, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, NY for an Electrophysiology fellowship. She has done research in several branches of cardiology and presented abstracts in National and International meetings. Dr. Gowda has a special interest and expertise in atrial fibrillation ablations. Over the past 5 years, has developed awareness in the community for heart rhythm abnormalities and has contributed largely in preventing, treating and halting the progression of several heart rhythm abnormalities.

Her other passions that she peruses are “Women and Heart Disease” “Prevention Strategies for Heart Arrhythmias” and “Women's Advocacy”.

Dr. Gowda enjoys travel, music, sports and art.